

62.33

Route 3, Perkins Road
Baton Rouge, Louisiana
July 7, 1954

To: Fellow Members of the Hemerocallis Society

I have a limited number of Marse Connell Day Lilies of blooming size, and I am offering them at a price of $7.50 postpaid (or a special price of $20.00 in lots of three postpaid). Shipments will be filled in accordance with each request--now or at any specified date.

Please make your check or money order payable to: Mrs. T. K. McKnight, Route 3, Perkins Road, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Sincerely,

Mrs. T. K. McKnight
Mrs. T. K. McKnight

EXCERPTS

The Hemerocallis Society 1954 Yearbook

Page 28--Parade of Champions: "MARSE CONNELL."

Page 30--"New and Choice" by Philip G. Corliss: "The tales about the Baton Rouge originations of Mr. Hooper R. Connell seemed so 'tall' that I felt impelled to investigate. Now I am happy to join the throng of his admirers, for he has a 'stable' of wonderful varieties, many of them truly distinctive. Tales about the size of his huge red MARSE CONNELL are well substantiated."

Page 69--"Louisiana, Land of Daylilies" by Mrs. U. B. Evans: "In Baton Rouge, Hooper Connell has given us such beautiful daylilies as..... MARSE CONNELL, an outstanding red that always stops the visitors in his garden."

Flower Grower, The Home Garden Magazine (July, 1954)

Page 58--"Daylilies and How to Grow Them" by Ben Arthur Davis: "The fabulous MARSE CONNELL is now available, and gardeners may produce its 10-inch blooms of garnet in their own daylily beds."

